This flagship development by local independent developer Greenway Homes has been sympathetically designed, giving stunning architecture blended with contemporary, elegant living. The mews houses are delightfully quirky, situated within the courtyards of the development and set over ground and first floors. Extending to circa 764 sq. ft, these charming properties benefit from open kitchen/dining room, first floor lounge with a south facing balcony and two bedrooms.

BLAYDON HOUSE

A DEVELOPMENT STEEPED IN HISTORY, AND A SIGNIFICANT RELIC OF TYNE & WEAR'S PAST AS AN INDUSTRIAL SPEARHEAD OF BRITAIN, GARDEN MEWS IS POSITIONED ON THE 'OLDEST STREET IN BLAYDON' AND IS AT THE HEART OF ITS CONSERVATION AREA.

The stone frontage of the imposing Blaydon House has been lovingly retained and will be transformed into three substantial townhouses, paying homage to its Georgian roots.

Originally constructed in 1819, the house was built for John Mulcaster, who was Agent to Colonel Thomas Richard Beaumont. The house is also believed to be one of the final stops on Sir Edward Blackett's 'Lead Way', where lead was carried from the mines at Allenheads to the smelt mill at Blaydon - now the site of the railway station.

Great care and attention to detail, synonymous with Greenway Homes' corporate ethos, has been paid to revive the history of this building, whilst using modern building techniques to provide luxury family homes.

These bespoke townhouses, offering homes with 1100-1500 sq ft, will portray the grandeur and prestige originally associated with the history of this fine Georgian building, with stunning architectural features inherent of its time.

Greenway Homes is proud to play its part in preserving the history and cultural importance of Blaydon House, whilst proving luxury homes which will showcase its splendour for many years to come.
